the responsibility and expense of burying the remains that were uncovered for us at the hospital.

"Moreover," he continued, "we intend to have the health officials search for Beatrice until she is either returned to us or proven to have died. In the last event we demand that her body be turned over to us."

Mrs. Roberts, investigator for Dr. Neff, declared that the description the Kaufmans gave of their child before the disinterment, tallies with that of the corpse taken from its grave.

"Mr. and Mrs. Kaufman told me that Beatrice had arched eyebrows, small ears, flat against the head, and a rounded nose," said Mrs. Roberts. "So had the child they saw in the hospital. The body was well preserved. Every feature stood out clearly. Mrs. Kaufman and her mother-in-law first admitted that the corpse was that child."

An attempt to shunt to a former nurse at the hospital the responsibility for the mix-up in identities which gave to Mrs. Engleman a child that did not belong to her and to the Kaufmans the girl who was in reality the supposed dead Engleman girl, has been made by the officials of the institution.

Put Blame on Charts.

The hospital management asserted that the mistake was due to the confusing of two charts. The report of the hospital official mentioned the name of Miss Edna Morrison, who left the hospital several months ago. The report told of the congested condition at the hospital and stated that for a time Beatrice Kaufman and Mollie Engleman occupied the same bed in ward "B," devoted to the treatment of scarlet fever.

Later, the report states, Beatrice was removed to the "mixed" contagion ward because of the discovery that she had developed symptoms of diphtheria. It was stated that the hospital charts were on the nurse's desk near the bed and that the nurse in taking Beatrice to the "mixed" contagion ward took along with her the chart belonging to Mollie Engleman.

Miss Morrison vigorously objected to the attempt to impute the blame for the complications over the identities upon her. She made her denial to Dr. Neff, showing that the case of neither the Engleman child nor the Kaufman child devolved upon her while she was a nurse at the hospital. As a result of her protest, Dr. Neff has shifted the responsibility to "some one in the receiving ward" of the institution.

New System Adopted.

To preclude the possibility of a recurrence of errors like the one resulting from the mistake over the identities of the Engleman and the Kaufman children, a new system of keeping tabs on the names of the patients at the hospital will be inaugurated by the department of health and charities.

The new method calls for the fastening of adhesive plaster stamped with the name of the patients upon the right arm of every person under treatment at the hospital.

Miss Taft Is Advocate Of New Mummy Sleeve

Miss Helen Taft has given final approval to the mummy sleeve, the latest thing in dress, which was introduced to Washington society by Mrs. Spencer Cosby. Miss Taft's sleeves will not be so tight as those worn by Mrs. Cosby, but the design is exactly like the former. Mrs. Martin Littleton has also adopted the new style.

The mummy sleeve as demonstrated by Mrs. Cosby is exactly like those worn by Ramesses and Cheops in their graves. The sleeves are wrapped so tightly that it is impossible to raise the arms and in fact Mrs. Cosby had great difficulty in shaking hands at a recent reception.

Mrs. Cosby's most recent mummy sleeved gown is of pink and silver brocade. A new white satin gown has these sleeves made of the finest of real old lace.

SPINKS WILL RUN FOR COURT PLACE

Alexandria Councilman Will Seek Place as Clerk—Washington
Memorial Association Elects New Officers for Ensuing Year.

WASHINGTON TIMES BUREAU.

ALEXANDRIA, VA., FEB. 22.

Announcement was made today by Frank C. Spinks, member of the city council of Alexandria from the first ward and one of the best-known politicians in the city, that he would be a candidate for the position of clerk of courts against Nevell S. Greenaway, the present incumbent. Both men are Democrats and the Democratic primary will be held sometime in August. The exact date will be arranged later by the city committee.

The announcement by Mr. Spinks, is believed to foretell one of the hottest political fights Alexandria has witnessed in years. The office of clerk of courts is the most important in the city. It is elected six years ago after a bitter fight, in which he defeated Chas. Seidman, for many years chairman of the city Democratic committee.

Mr. Spinks has been a member of city council for thirteen years. Up to a year ago he represented the fourth ward, but he was defeated by Edward S. Leadbeater, one of the leading business men of Alexandria, in the present election. He is at present engaged in the retail liquor business, but when he made the announcement of his candidacy, he said that he made arrangements to dispose of his business in order to give his whole time to the canvass.

That considerable progress toward the erection of the Memorial Temple in Alexandria to George Washington was made at the meeting of the Masonic association, which completed its labors yesterday, was made that 100 names had been added to the roll of honor, who are subscribers of $100 each toward the erection of the building. Plans were made for the collection of funds in more than a dozen States where the proposition is regarded with favor.

After re-electing the old officers for a term of two years, with two small exceptions, and transacting some routine business, the association adjourned yesterday afternoon. Later they went to St. Vernon to a service on the tomb of Washington and last night attended the banquet of Alexandria-Washington Lodge.

Samuel W. Pitts, worshipful master of the lodge, presided, and the speakers were W. L. Andrews, grand master of Masons of Virginia; Charles A. Towne, former Senator of Minnesota, but now of New York, and John H. Harris, past master of Liberty Lodge, of Beverly, Mass.

At the conclusion of the services at the Second Presbyterian Church this morning, a congregational meeting was held to decide the name of the new building which is under course of erection by the church, at the corner of Prince and St. Joseph streets. It had been decided to call the new building the Westminster Hall, but there was some objection on the part of some of the members. Action on the matter was deferred.

The funeral of George Henry Dove was held this afternoon at 3 o'clock from his residence. Interment was made at Woodlawn, Fairfax county. The Rev. G. A. Lattrell, pastor of Trinity Church, conducted the service.

The delegates from Alexandria, Carroll Pierce, Richard M. Green, J. Johnson Green, C. S. Taylor Burke, and Arthur Herbert, Jr., to the meeting of group three of the Virginia Bankers' Association, at Harrisonburg, Va., have returned home. Mr. Herbert was elected a member of the executive committee.

Dennis Watkins, colored, charged with the murder of Jasper Wilkins, colored, will be tried in the circuit court of Alexandria county, Judge Thornton, presiding, next Thursday. The murder was committed on February 1, at Queen city, Alexandria county.

Dr. Douglas S. Freeman, president of the State conference of charities and corrections, will deliver a lecture tomorrow night in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce on the City of the Children. The lecture will be given under the auspices of the Anti-tuberculosis society.

An important meeting of Alexandria Lodge of Elks will be held tomorrow night.

Alleged Assailant and Slayer of Girl on Trial
